Full Stack Development Engineer

Network Engineer & Architect - AIX System Engineer

After a long experience of more than 20 years as a network engineer, AIX Systems engineer then network and Data Center architect within IBM, I made the bold choice in 2019 to return to my first technological loves, namely software development, and to invest myself completely in it. My choice fell more specifically on Typescript and Fullstack NodeJs, Angular & Ionic technologies for Web and PWA applications.

A more detailed version of my CV, in English, can be found here: www.pfouque.fr
